SPREAD THE WORD

We're excited to have you share that story how real people are restoring balance, sustaining energy, and rediscovering confidence with Zestal Trim.

As a wellness brand built on integrity, we follow all regulations for dietary supplements. That means we focus on what's real and proven: supporting healthy habits, consistency, hydration, and everyday movement — not making medical claims or exaggerated promises.

This guide was created to make it effortless for you to speak about Zestal Trim with clarity, confidence, and authenticity. Together, we're not just promoting a product — we're redefining what modern wellness looks and feels like.

LET'S CREATE TOGETHER

Zestal

ZESTAL TRIM

MESSAGING GUIDELINES

DO THIS

- Show real lifestyle moments. Share your workouts, healthy meals, morning routines, or small daily wins. Authenticity always outperforms perfection.
- Talk about how you feel. Focus on energy, balance, consistency, confidence, and progress—not promises or medical outcomes.
- Highlight habits. Mention hydration, rest, mindfulness, or movement as part of your Zestal Trim journey.
- Use personal experience. “I’ve felt more focused since adding Zestal Trim to my routine” is far more credible than “Zestal Trim cures fatigue.”
- Stay on-brand. Clean visuals, warm light, minimal filters, modern design. Keep it elevated but relatable.
- Be transparent. Always tag content correctly (#ZestalTrim, #ad, or #ambassador when required).

DON'T DO THIS

- ✗ Making medical or therapeutic claims.
(No “Zestal Trim treats, prevents, or cures anything.” Ever.)
- ✗ Exaggerating or implying guaranteed results.
(Skip the “melted 10 pounds in a week” talk.)
- ✗ Referencing disease names, prescriptions, or medical conditions.
- ✗ Comparing Zestal Trim to drugs or treatments.
- ✗ Using before/after photos that imply medical transformation.
- ✗ Copying or re-posting unapproved product language.

REMEMBER

Zestal Trim is about empowerment through lifestyle consistency—hydration, nutrition, rest, and movement. You’re not selling a miracle; you’re showing what’s possible when people commit to their own wellness.
